Signing and Signals Training Lot

Description and Benefit

The training lot allows the opportunity for employees to learn and train on how to install bases and put signs in a safe environment. This works on small signs to truss overhead signs. They learn how to position the truck to work on an overhead truss sign. They learn how to use the auger to bore for the I-beam base. This training lot helps our employees gain their confidence and skills before placing them out on the road to perform safely.
